This class will be a fun and meaningful class as we identify all the benefits of outdoor play for children. We will look at the opportunities for unique experiences of climate, openness, freedom for creativity with no fear of the messiness, wildlife and science/nature, and color and scents the great outdoor offers. We will also study how infants/toddlers learn in all areas of development outdoors. Plus, we will discuss the barriers and challenges with outdoor play and how we can create some solutions to most of them. I will share many outdoor activities suggestions for young infants, mobile infants, and toddlers and the participants will have the opportunity to share their, too and brainstorm together additional activities/experiences.

*You will also receive some fun/meaningful activities to do with children for Feb!
Snacks will be served!*

Hope to see you there! Please call Sue Heisler at 218-983-3285 ext. 1225 to register. Leave a message if I'm not in the office. Thank you!
